

Best practices of the Department

- ❖ Bridge course: A "bridge course for slow learners" refers to a preparatory course designed specifically for students who learn at a slower pace, aiming to fill in any knowledge gaps and provide them with the necessary foundation to succeed in a regular academic program, often by focusing on basic concepts and providing extra support to help them catch up with their peers before starting a new level of study.
- ❖ Community service: The department of Commerce was offered Open day celebration for the High school and Intermediate students every year. In this connection we displayed equipment that are related to their standard. We encourage Students to explain the basic concept and principle of the experiment to the students. Our staff members also demonstrated the working of different Arts to the Students of that school.
- ❖ Feedback on curriculum: Every academic year the department was collect the feedback on curriculum from the students and submit the recommendations to the University.
- ❖ Submission of project works: All the final year students are assigned to do project works. This enhances the research tendency among the student community.
- ❖ Seminars by students: Each teacher in the department is conducting class room seminars by the students. Most of the students are participating in the seminars under the guidance of the concern teacher. They are also collecting opinions from their co-students for their improvement.
- ❖ Power point presentation: Students are encouraged to prepare PPTs in their concern subjects. They are preparing PPTs by utilizing the systems in the simulation lab of the department. Staff of the department also preparing the PPTs by their own and net down loaded PPTs.
- ❖ Teacher Quality: The department has a unique practice. The teachers' performance is also analyzed on the basis of their class room performance and their result performance.
Each year we are taking the feedback report from the students of the concern teacher by giving a questionnaire. These questionnaires are analyzed. Similarly, the teachers are analyzed basing on their students results. The above two are compared with the help of bar graphs
- ❖ Moral support: The department is providing moral support to the students through teacher counselors system. Under this system 30 students are allotted to a teacher and that teacher look after those students in all aspects for the 3 years.
